

Wednesday Morning.

Dear Winchell:

I shall not have time to get down to the office this morning, or to see what letters or communications may come by this morning's mail. Please see what Mr. Walcutt may get, and exercise your judgment accordingly. And so with other matters that may come along, day by day.

I will be obliged to you to prepare a notice of the transfer of the Commonwealth, &c.

Last evening, I had to be at Francis Jackson's, and so have found no time to prepare my article about Farmer's letter and extracts therefrom, in regard to the Sabbath, and so must leave them till my return.

Abner's Adams's letter may be set in Briggs's, and be put at the top of the third column, second page. The first two columns will consist of the extracts from the Hartford Republican, (speeches of Dr. Dwight &c.) and the two articles from the Cincinnati Journal & Messenger. Should it be necessary, to make the columns come out even, you can leave off the last paragraph (Dr. Tod's remarks) from the Republican's sketch.

It will not be worth while to insert again the notice of the Syracuse meeting.

Yours, truly,

W. L. G.

Monday Morning.

Dear Winchell:

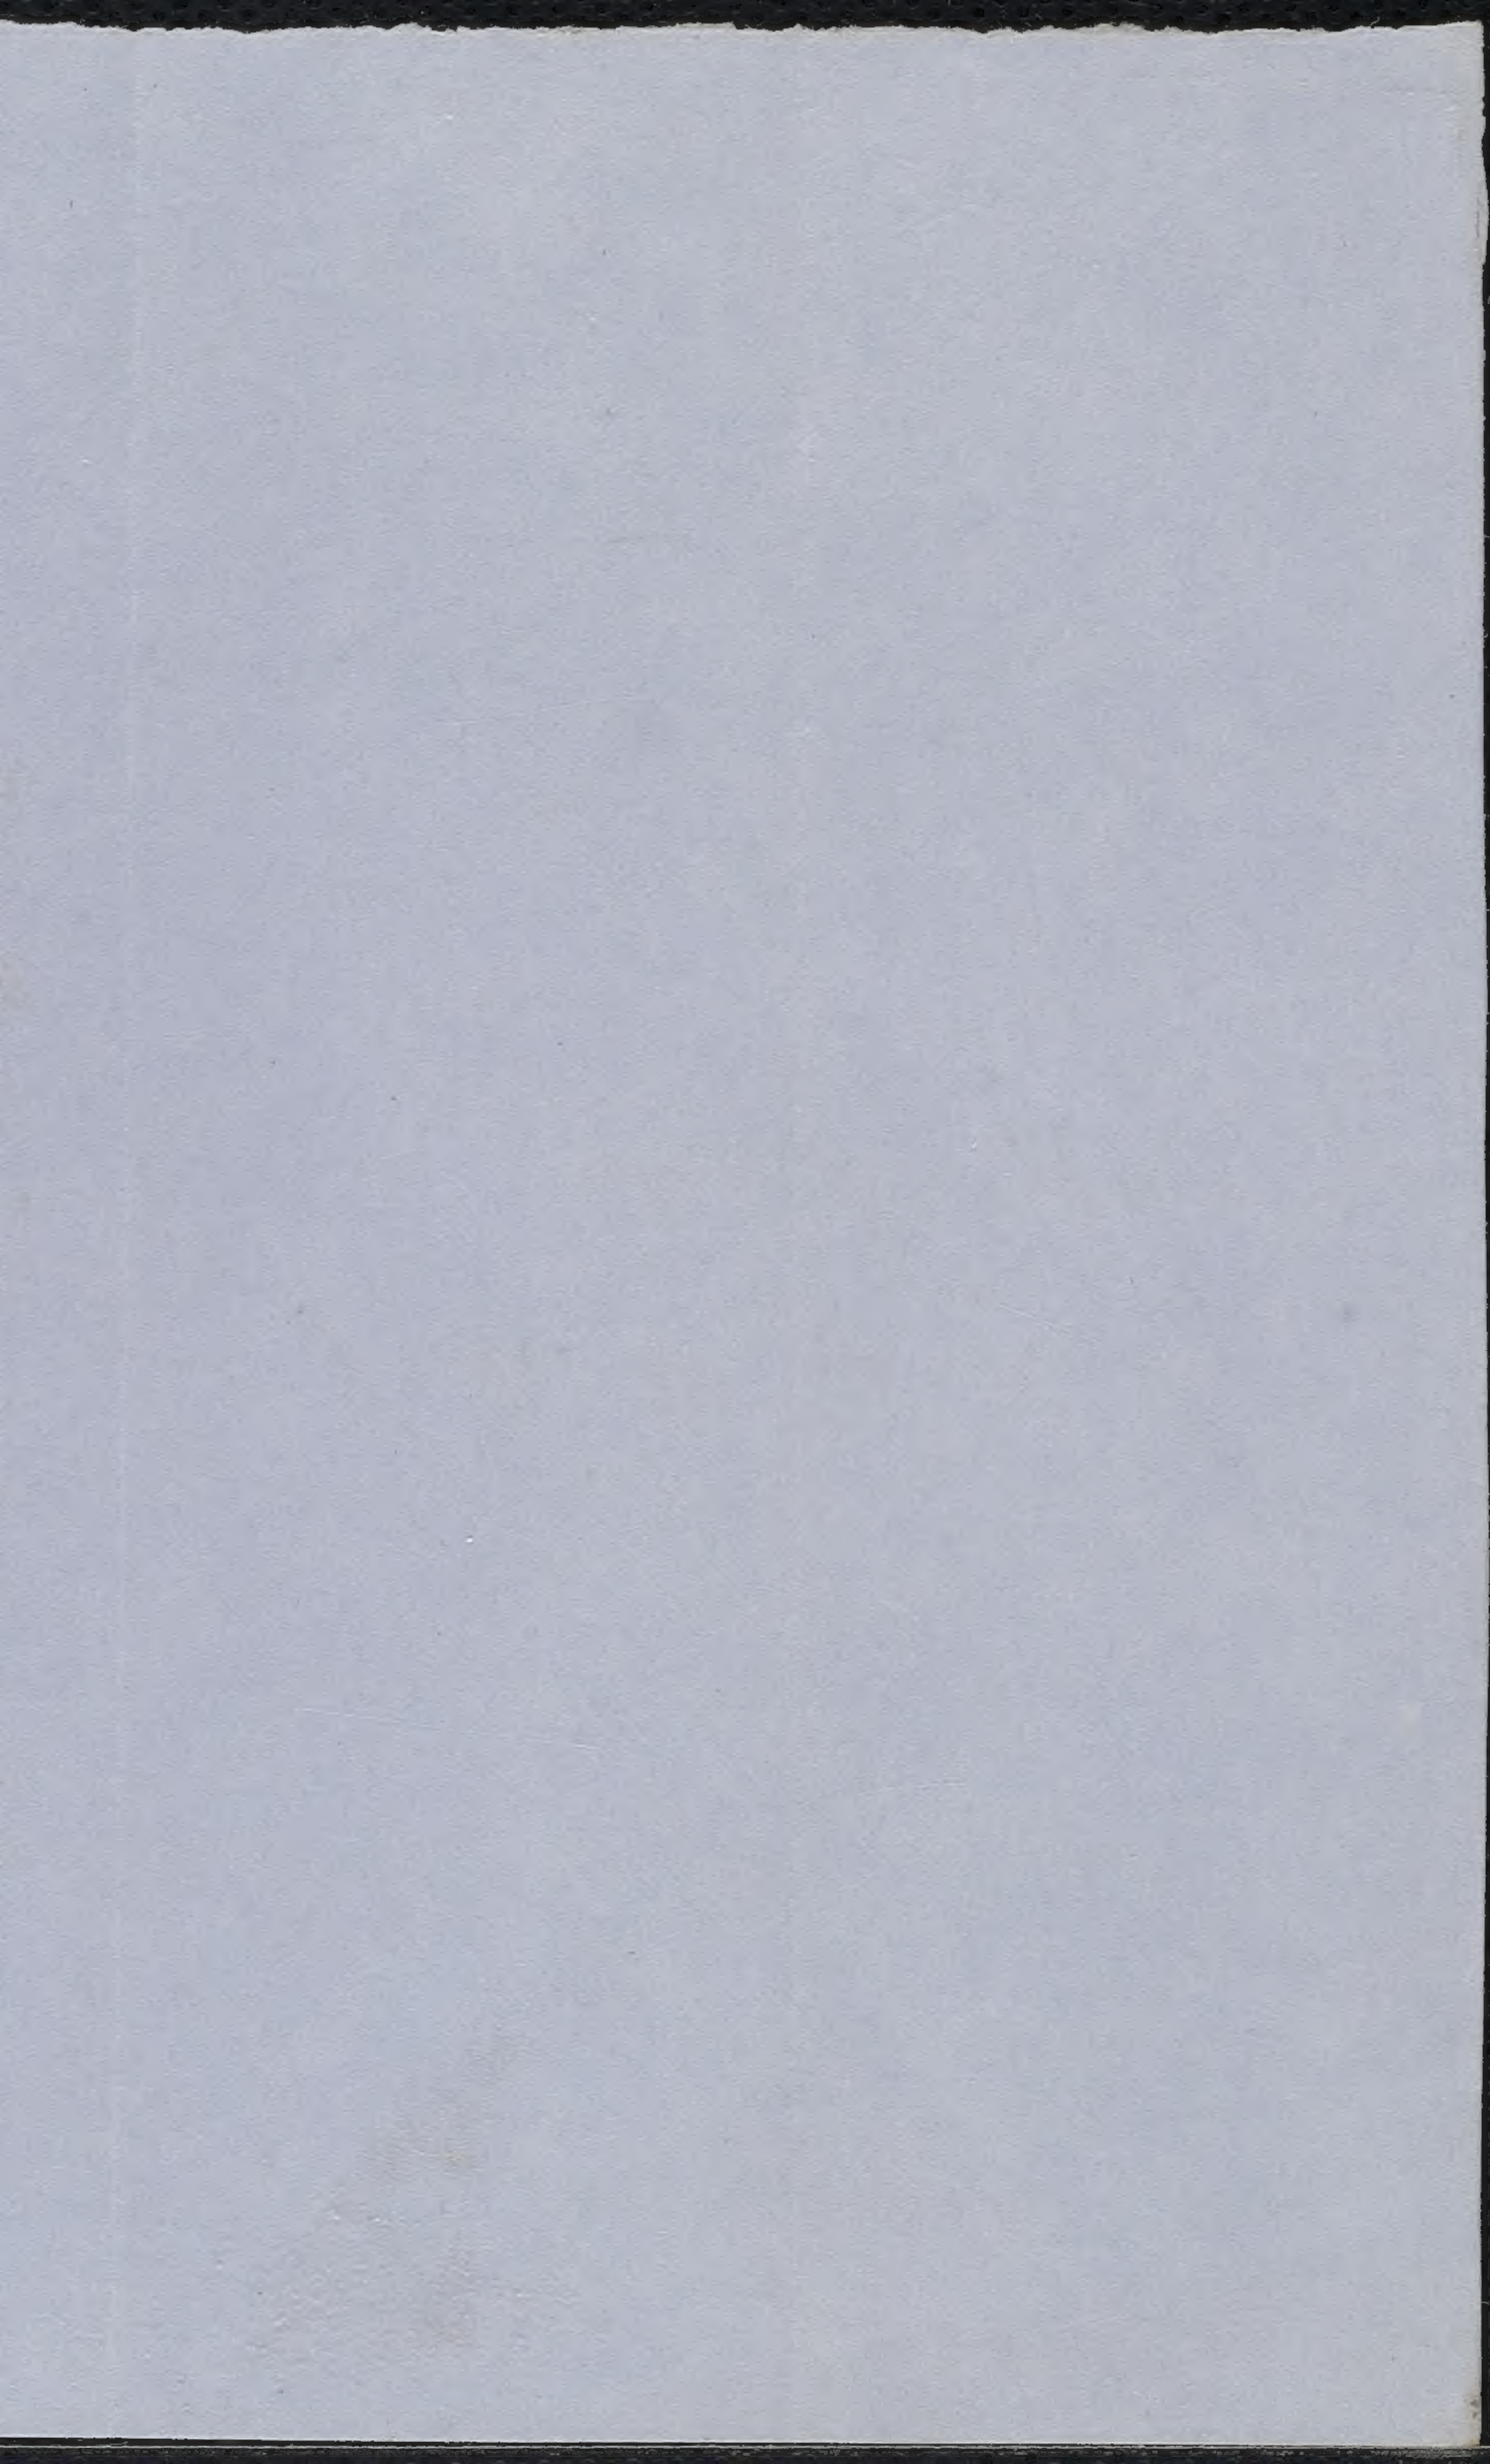

I think we must try, if possible, to get the proceedings in Congress, long as they are, inserted in this week's Liberator — to the omission of Mr. Child's letter, if necessary. Set them in Burgeis or Brewster, as you have room and type.

The article about the hearing of the Women at Albany, by the Legislative Committee, must be omitted this week.

Please read the proof of the paper.

Yours ever,

W. L. G.
